

BPI WEALTH

FinQuest 2026

UNDERSTAND THE MARKETS, FUND YOUR FUTURE

Background:

According to the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (“BSP”), only 2 out of 10 Filipino adults (23%) reported having any form of investment in 2025, which is a decrease from 36% in 2021.

Existing initiatives to increase the ease of investing are widespread, through digitalization of investment transactions and reduction of initial investment requirements. Investment offerings have also become embedded within traditional banking services and e-wallets, platforms that 58% of Filipino adults already use (BSP, 2026).

Problem:

To broaden participation in investing, efforts are needed to cultivate a culture where investing is more commonplace, to create wealth and increase the financial resilience of every Filipino.

This challenge is best addressed by focusing on the youth, who are still shaping their financial habits, and stand to benefit most from early investing.

Prompt:

Engaging the youth requires investment products that are designed to meet them where they are—making it easy for them to start investing and build it into a lifelong practice.

How can you redesign investment funds to make investing relevant, accessible, and sustainable for the Filipino youth?

FinQuest 2026 Objectives

- Financial Literacy: Encourage the Filipino youth to start investing early.
- Industry Knowledge: Deepen college students' understanding of investing and the financial industry through exposure to investment funds and asset management.
- Social Impact: Inspire participants to devise solutions that will increase investment penetration among Filipinos, promoting shared prosperity, building financial resilience, and promoting inclusive economic growth.

The competition is open to groups of penultimate and graduating college students from Philippine universities, who are enrolled or will be enrolled in the Academic Years 2025-2026 and 2026-2027.

- Each competing group must only have three (3) to five (5) members.
- Each participant may join only one (1) team.
- All members of each team must come from the same school.

Registration Form:

Interested teams can sign up through the official FinQuest 2026 Form by typing the link below in your browser.

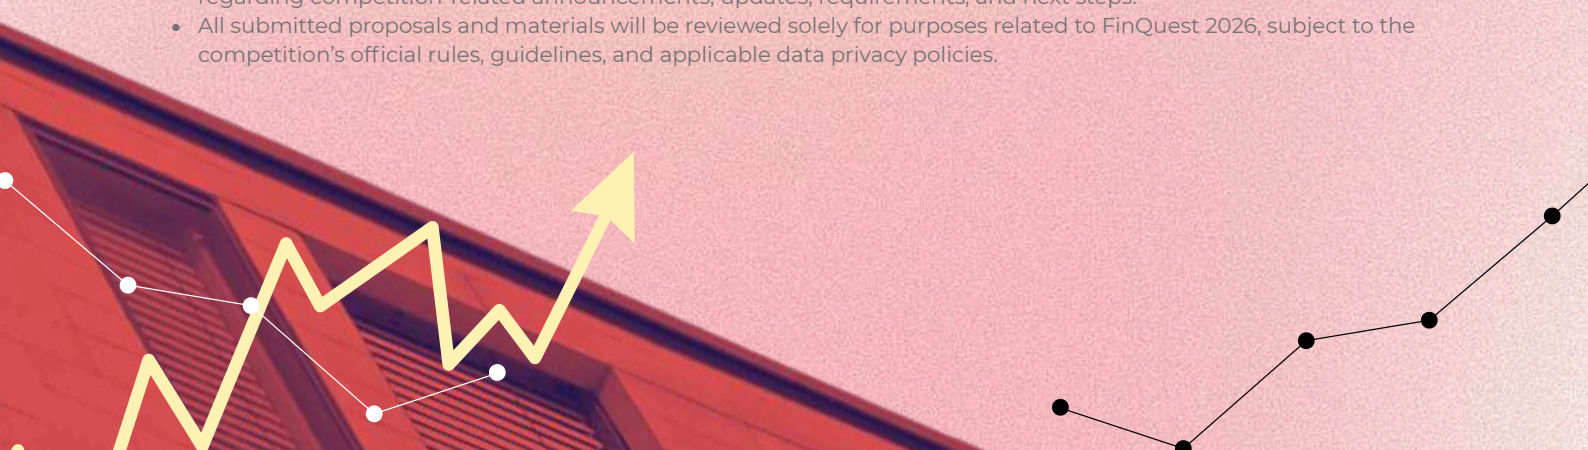

<https://bit.ly/FinQuest2026RegistrationForm>

The registration form will require participants to provide their personal details, a group photo, and other relevant information necessary for communication, coordination, and administration of the competition.

By submitting the registration form, the team confirms the intention to participate in FinQuest 2026 and agrees to have their proposal, submitted materials, and related information reviewed and evaluated by BPI Wealth for purposes of the competition.

Important Reminders and Disclaimers

- Submission of the registration form does not guarantee selection or advancement in the competition.
- All information provided must be true, complete, and accurate to the best of the participants' knowledge.
- Participants are responsible for ensuring that they have the necessary consent from all team members before submitting personal information, photos, and other materials.
- By registering, participants acknowledge that BPI Wealth may use the submitted information to contact the team regarding competition-related announcements, updates, requirements, and next steps.
- All submitted proposals and materials will be reviewed solely for purposes related to FinQuest 2026, subject to the competition's official rules, guidelines, and applicable data privacy policies.

Competition Phase 1: Your Proposal

Participants are invited to conceptualize an investment fund solution grounded in a clear strategy and compelling investment theme. In this process, students will be encouraged to:

- Define a fund's purpose and structure.
- Identify relevant and forward-looking investment opportunities.
- Present ideas in a manner that makes investing more relatable and accessible to their generation.

Investment Strategy (The Hunt)

What would the youth invest in?

Devise an actively managed fund that is based on a sound investment strategy and appeals to young investors.

Research macro trends and sectors to develop a clear investment thesis grounded in data and conviction.

This includes defining the fund's objective, selecting a compelling theme, and identifying ten (10) securities* that best express that thesis.

*Participants are prohibited from proposing a feeder fund.

Distribution and Marketing (The Hook)

What would make the youth start investing?

Identify the key hook or narrative that makes investing feel worth starting today.

By exploring the lifestyle and aspirations of young Filipino adults, devise a campaign that meets them where they are and speaks their language.

The goal is to spark the youth's first step into investing.

Customer Journey (The Habit)

What would make the youth stay invested?

Design the investing experience for a young investor, to turn investing from a one-time action into a habit.

Map the end-to-end journey from first awareness to the first peso invested, to staying invested through market ups and downs.

Reduce friction by designing a clear and intuitive experience.

Phase 1: Submission Guidelines

Participants must submit one (1) PDF file containing the following:

- Fund Fact Sheet (Maximum of 2 Pages)
- Executive Summary (Maximum of 3 Pages)

Fund Fact Sheet (2 Pages, PDF Format)

A fund fact sheet is a document designed to provide investors with a snapshot of your actively managed fund's essential details, including its investment strategy, risk profile, and portfolio composition.

It should serve as a quick reference for both novice and experienced investors to evaluate whether your fund aligns with their financial goals and risk tolerance.

Your submitted fund fact sheet will serve as the primary output for the investment strategy pillar, and must include the following:

- Title & Theme
- Investment Objective + Need Being Addressed
- Fund Facts
- Client Suitability
- Risks and Risk Management
- Asset Allocation
- Top Holdings
- Geographic Allocation*
- Sector Allocation*
- Team

May or may not be necessary, depending on the composition of the fund.*

Phase 1: Submission Guidelines

Executive Summary (3 Pages, PDF Format)

The executive summary should communicate the overall concept, rationale, and impact of your proposed solution. It should provide a clear understanding of how your fund addresses the challenge of making investing more relevant, accessible, and sustainable for the Filipino youth.

The executive summary should serve as the primary output for the Marketing and Customer Experience pillars, connecting your investment solution to how the Filipino youth will discover, access, and engage with it.

For Marketing, it should explain how your team will encourage young Filipino adults to take their first step into investing through a compelling message, campaign, and go-to-market strategy. For Customer Experience, it should outline a proposed customer experience on a platform of choice, that will help young investors build confidence, stay engaged, and remain invested over the long term.

If necessary, an additional fourth page of the executive summary may be used as an annex for supplementary references and visuals.

Formatting

- Document Size: A4
- Font and Size: Arial 11

Upon completion, each team must submit their Phase 1 proposal through the FinQuest email.

Phase 1 Guide Questions

The following questions are intended to guide your team in developing a well-structured and competitive proposal for Phase 1, tailored for each of the three pillars (Investment Strategy, Marketing Campaign, and Customer Experience).

While it is not necessary to address every question, they serve as a framework to help ensure that your submission is comprehensive and thoughtfully developed.

General Guide Questions: Use the following to guide your approach and decision-making throughout the proposal.

- How will you redesign investment funds to make investing relevant, accessible, and sustainable for the Filipino youth?
- How does your proposed fund address an unmet financial or investment need of young Filipino adults in the Philippines?
- How do your fund's proposed marketing efforts and customer experience align with the lifestyle and aspirations of young Filipino adults?

Investment Guide Questions: Participants are required to answer all questions through the fund fact sheet.

- What is the value proposition of your actively-managed fund to young Filipino investors? / What need are you addressing with your fund?
 - To provide steady income to investors? To serve as a vehicle for steady capital appreciation over time? To help investors benefit from the growth of a specific sector/emerging market?
- What theme does the fund follow (e.g., global, sectoral, sustainability)?
- How does the structure/classification of your fund help achieve your investment objective?
- What research, data, or market trends prove that the theme of your fund makes for a viable investment?
- How do you compare your fund to other funds and what makes your fund different? Compare your fund to at least 3 similar funds and show what makes it different.
- Which securities* would be the ten (10) biggest holdings of your fund? Explain how they match the theme, and why they are viable investments.
- What are the geographical and sectoral allocations of the securities?*
- What are the key investment risks and considerations for the fund and how will the team mitigate them?
- Introduce your team. Who are the members of the team, and what are their credentials? (Education, Work Experience, Certifications, etc).

*Only if applicable to the proposed fund design.

Participants are prohibited from proposing a feeder fund.

Marketing Campaign Guide Questions

- What specific hook or message will make Filipino young adults aged 18-25 y/o interested to invest in your fund?
- How is your message related to the current financial goals of Filipino young adults aged 18-25?
- How will your message help Filipino young adults overcome barriers that stop them from investing: fear, lack of knowledge, low income, distrust, intimidation, etc.?
- How do you intend to position the fund against other investment funds in the market?
- What is your marketing initiative/campaign to launch the fund?
- What is the go-to-market strategy?
- Through what channels, partnerships, or initiatives will you build awareness, engagement, and trust among young Filipino adults?
- e.g. Should the campaign launch online, on campus, through influencers, or through partner apps?
- How does your go-to-market strategy capture your target audience?
- What key characteristics, behaviors, or preferences of young Filipino adults does your go-to-market strategy leverage?

Customer Experience Guide Questions

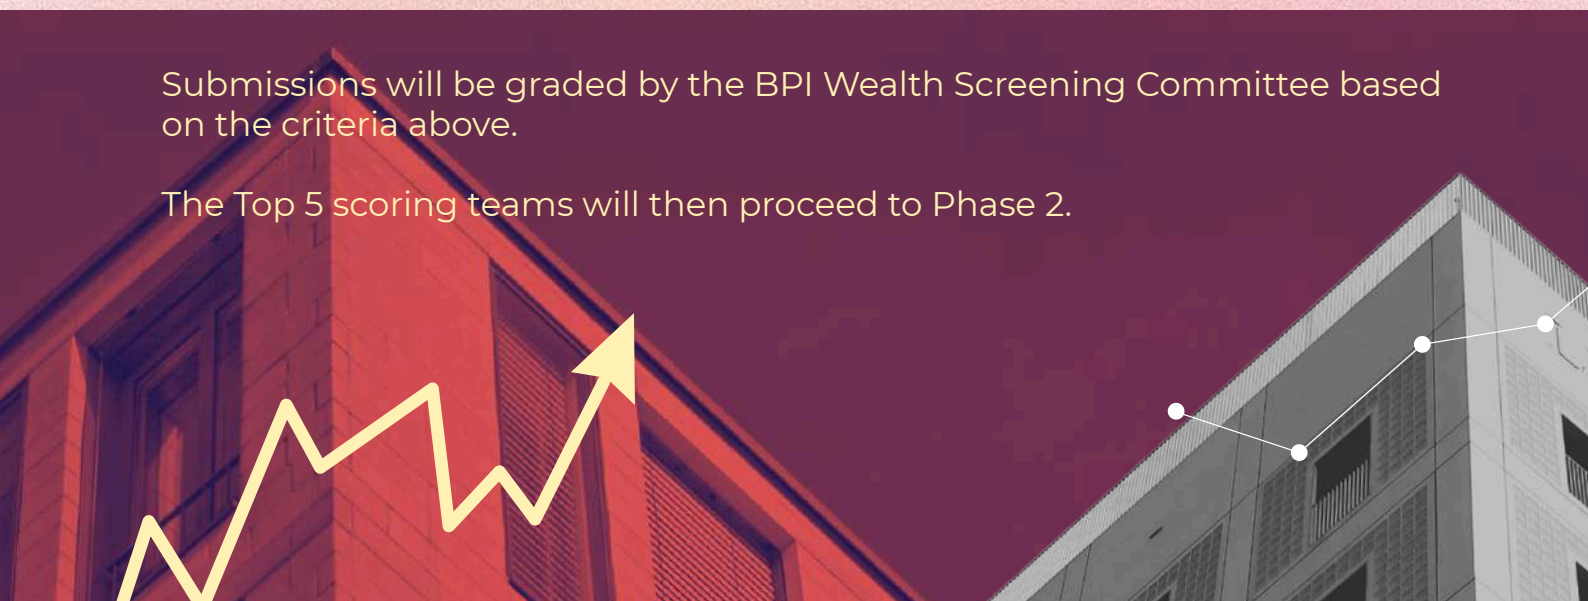

- In which platform can clients access the fund? Why would that platform appeal to your target audience?
- How can the fund appear in the daily routine of Filipino young adults?
- How would you make the transaction process smooth, simple, and transparent for clients? Consider the following:
 - Account onboarding
 - Regular transactions (buying and redeeming)
 - Viewing and monitoring holdings.
- How would you design the experience to help clients stay invested?
- How will you help them make sense of price movements, overcome emotional investing, and build discipline?
- How will you help even beginners understand critical financial information?
- How would you ensure that clients steadily add to their investments?
- How will you measure whether the customer experience is successful?

Phase 1: Criteria

Criteria	Weight	Description
Background & Research	25%	Demonstrates exceptional, in-depth research supported by credible sources, strong data, and clear market insights. Every aspect of the fund concept, marketing campaign, and customer experience is evidence-based and grounded in real market needs.
Feasibility	25%	The fund, marketing strategy, and customer experience are operationally viable, commercially sound, aligned with regulatory requirements.
Fund Process	20%	Shows a rigorous fund construction methodology. Every holding is intentionally selected, clearly aligned with the fund theme and objectives, and backed by strong investment rationale.
Originality	30%	Introduces a breakthrough concept that meaningfully reimagines how young Filipinos invest. The fund stands out across investment strategy, marketing, and customer experience rather than merely improving existing products.

Submissions will be graded by the BPI Wealth Screening Committee based on the criteria above.

The Top 5 scoring teams will then proceed to Phase 2.

Competition Phase 2: The Final Showdown

The Top 5 teams in Phase 1 will advance to Phase 2 of the competition.

During this stage, finalists will undergo a mentorship period with industry practitioners to refine and strengthen their proposals in preparation for the final defense. Teams will have the opportunity to validate their investment strategy, sharpen their marketing approach, and enhance their proposed customer experience based on feedback and guidance from mentors from BPI Wealth.

At the conclusion of the mentorship period, finalists will present their proposals before a panel of judges during the FinQuest 2026 Live Forum on October 17, 2026.

On top of their refined fund fact sheets, teams will also submit two more outputs that showcase their Marketing and Customer Experience concepts. These include a 30-second marketing video promoting the fund to young Filipino adults and a customer roadmap graphic illustrating the investor journey from discovery to ongoing engagement.

Teams will be evaluated on the overall strength and cohesion of their proposed solution, and the strength of their investment strategy, marketing approach, and customer experience design. Judges will also assess the proposal's feasibility, robustness of the fund construction process, originality, and the team's ability to effectively communicate and defend their ideas during the presentation and question-and-answer session.

Phase 2: Criteria

Criteria	Weight	Description

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQs)

Q: Can students from different departments (e.g. School of Management, School of Social Sciences, School of Engineering) form one team?

A: Yes, as long as they are enrolled in the same University, and meet all other eligibility criteria.

Q: Can students from different campuses, constituent universities, or branches of the same university system (e.g., UP Diliman and UP Baguio) form a team?

A: No. Students enrolled in different campuses, constituent universities, or branches of the same university system are considered to be from different schools and therefore may not form a team together.

Q: What are the required submission materials for Phase 1?

A: Teams must submit one PDF document containing the following:

- (1) a Fund Fact Sheet (maximum of 2 pages) and
- (2) an Executive Summary (maximum of 3 pages)

Q: Does our proposal have to be focused only on the Filipino youth?

A: Yes. FinQuest 2026 wishes to address the challenge of increasing investment participation among Filipino youth.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQs)

Q: Can the Phase 1 submission contain visuals, such as graphs and charts?

A: Yes. We encourage the use of visuals in both the Fund Fact Sheet and Executive Summary.

Q: Is there a required format or template for the Fund Fact Sheet and Executive Summary?

A: No. Outside of the prescribed Arial 11 font size and A4 document size, teams are free to determine the layout, design, and presentation of their submissions, provided that all required information is included, and the prescribed page limits are observed.

Q: Can our investment strategy include stocks and bonds outside the Philippines?

A: Yes. Teams may include both local and international securities if these support the fund's investment objective and overall investment thesis. The selection and allocation of securities should be clearly justified.
